

PATHFINDERS

LEARN ABOUT THE NEURODIVERSITY INITIATIVE AT NORTHEASTERN UNIVERSITY

Join us for this introductory event to learn more about the College of Engineering Neurodiversity Initiative. The COE Neurodiversity Initiative offers students who self identify resources in belonging on campus, social and emotional support, and co-op skills.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND

COE students who self identify as neurodiverse, including, but not limited to, students who are autistic, ADHD, dyslexic

WHY THEY SHOULD ATTEND

To learn more about the Neurodiversity Initiative and the services we offer with our student coaches, to meet the NI team, and to establish community.

BENEFITS OF NEURODIVERSITY INITIATIVE SUPPORT

- Heightened acceptance and diminished stigmas of concealed disabilities
- Early identification and support for students for co-op
- Strengthened sense of belonging
- Elevated participation in co-op
- Greater diversity and improved operational agility for employers
- Enhanced employment prospects, economic independence, and autonomy after graduation
- Dissemination of neurodiversity best practices for broader adoption
- Increased retention of neurodivergent students
- Establishment of a common understanding for creating sustainable and mutually beneficial employment matches
- There is no diagnosis or fee required

EVENT DETAILS

Date: Thursday, October 24

Time: 5:00 to 6:30 PM

Place: Shillman 320

Pizza and other refreshments will be provided.

To register for this introductory event, scan the QR code.